

Spectrum Juvenile Justice Services, Lincoln and Calumet Centers, PREA annual report

Prison Rape Elimination Act 2023 Annual Data and Annual Report

Spectrum Human Services' juvenile justice residential facilities, Lincoln Center and Calumet Center, are required to adopt and comply with all standards of the federal Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA). In accordance with this federal law, Spectrum Human Services has a zero-tolerance policy for sexual abuse and sexual harassment of its juvenile justice program residents. Lincoln Center and Calumet Center have preventive plans in place and, should allegations regarding sexual abuse or harassment be made, all personnel are trained to rapidly restore safety, attend to and support the victim, and promptly initiate a thorough investigative process. Audits of each facility are required every three years to ensure compliance with PREA standards.

Reporting Sexual Abuse or Harassment

Lincoln Center and Calumet Center policy requires that youths be provided with multiple ways to report sexual abuse, suspected abuse, and sexual harassment. Youth are provided with an orientation on the multiple reporting options available to them. Lincoln and Calumet Centers ensure that youth who report sexual abuse or harassment, and supporting witnesses, are protected from retaliation. Reporting options include:

- Verbally to any staff, counselor or administrator.
- In writing to any staff, counselor or administrator.
- In writing through the youth and family grievance process.
- Verbally or in writing to an advocate, parent, legal guardian, or attorney.
- Externally by telephoning Children's Protective Services at 1-855-444-3911.

Youth's family members and the public are also encouraged to report suspected sexual abuse or harassment of youth in custody. Anonymous and third-party reports must be accepted. The MDHHS Children's Protective Services line, 1-855-444-3911, can be utilized at any time to report suspected abuse or neglect of children, including sexual abuse.

Sexual Abuse Allegation Year-to-Year Comparison Data

There was one allegation of staff-on-youth sexual misconduct made at Lincoln Center in 2022, and that allegation was unsubstantiated. There were no other allegations made between 2022 and 2023.

The number of allegations of youth-on-youth sexual abuse and sexual harassment at Calumet Center were identical in calendar years 2022 and 2023, with no allegations of that type made in either year. There was one allegation of staff sexual misconduct made in both 2022 and 2023, which were both determined to be unfounded. In Both years, there were no reported allegations of staff-on-youth sexual harassment.

PREA Audits

PREA audits must be conducted at both facilities by a U.S. Department of Justice-certified auditor. Both Calumet and Lincoln Centers were last audited in 2022. The final report of that PREA audit is posted on this website which met the juvenile standards. PREA Compliance monitoring is scheduled for mid-year 2024.

PREA audits are robust and auditors are exacting in requiring that facilities comply with all the PREA juvenile standards. As a result, facilities that have successfully completed an audit will have youth, staff, and investigators that are better educated on their rights and responsibilities under PREA for zero tolerance of sexual abuse and harassment. PREA Standards require youth and staff education, require that youth have the unrestricted right to use a grievance process and other avenues to report allegations, and that reporting youth and supporting witnesses be protected from retaliation for reporting. A full listing of the juvenile standards can be found online at the National PREA Resource Center website.
